

CINE 211: Film Form and Analysis

Group Presentation: Visual Storytelling in a Modern Film

In groups of 3 to 4, choose one feature film released after 2010 and deliver a 12-minute in-class presentation analyzing how the film uses cinematography and editing to tell its story.

Requirements

1. A one-paragraph film proposal naming your film and your thesis, due Tuesday, October 6.
2. A slide deck (10 to 15 slides) with at least four annotated stills from the film.
3. A 12-minute presentation where every group member speaks.
4. An annotated bibliography with at least five scholarly sources (MLA format).
5. A short individual reflection (300 words) on your contribution, submitted separately.

Schedule

Proposal due: Tuesday, October 6. In-class rehearsal check-in: Friday, October 9.

Final presentations: Tuesday, October 13, 2026, in class. Slides and bibliography due by 9:00 AM that day.

Grading: proposal 10%, slides 25%, presentation 35%, bibliography 20%, reflection 10%.
